Donald Trump and Rush Limbaugh? Thirty years ago neither would likely have sought contact with the other. But, thirty plus years later, as the saying goes, “Politics make odd bed-fellows.” From the 2020 State of the Union address through the recent CPAC speech, President Donald Trump has persisted in bringing and keeping Rush Limbaugh’s memory alive for Conservatives. With the passing of Rush Limbaugh his politics and influence live on in archives while former President Trump seeks to carry forth the highly conservative and sometimes adversarial political view points so long propounded by the Great Maha-Rushdi.

We miss you Rush!
